

Mary Adams O'Connell, TRANSFORMATIVE PARTNER AWARD

Mary Adams O'Connell will be receiving the Transformative Partner Award, honoring those who help transform communities most impacted by economic and racial injustice through philanthropy. She has been a member of the Board of Trustees of Children's Hospital Los Angeles since 2002. She is vice chair of The Saban Research Institute Committee and serves on the Audit and Investment committees. Mary is a member of First Families and a former president of Las Madrinas.

Mary is president and chief executive officer of Adams O'Connell, Inc., a family investment company serving three generations of family clients. She founded and chairs HealthyCity.org, a project using innovative data analysis and GIS mapping techniques to provide services for the underserved and to support policy, research and planning efforts for collaborating organizations. The project expanded statewide in February 2010. Mary also serves on the Smith College President's Council.